

Celebrating Constitution Day

L to R: Congressman Steve King, Beth Parlato, Debbie Kraulidis, Kimberly Fletcher, Liz Matory, Juleen Jackson

We want to thank Congressman Steve King and his staff for all their support in making this event possible.

Moms for America® joined Congressman Steve King and other members of Congress on September 17th to celebrate Constitution Day at the U.S. Capitol. Several media outlets attended including Fox News, Sinclair Broadcasting, Red Net, Breitbart, PJ Media and others.

Breitbart live-streamed the entire press conference. We had over 75,000 views on Breitbart alone with 657 shares on Facebook. We hosted a Watch Party on our Facebook page with thousands more viewing and sharing our message.

We are impacting the mothers and our culture. We don't just do events, we create timeless messages to teach and inspire mothers and their families long after the event is over. Each speech is being edited into short pieces that inspire Mothers all across America to raise American Patriots and use their voices at home and at the ballot box. We're on a culture-changing mission to promote a love of liberty, restore the Republic and heal our nation from the inside out!

Who Was Olga Weber?

the History of Constitution Day and the power of a Mom!

Olga Weber was an Ohio homemaker who, in 1951, became very concerned that American citizens were taking their freedoms too much for granted. After reflecting on the matter Olga decided she needed to do something to remind the people of America just how important freedom is. She began distributing copies of the Constitution, the Bill of Rights, flag booklets, and other patriotic leaflets to the local schools, churches, and libraries. Then, in 1952, Olga decided it would be a good idea to establish a Constitution Day to commemorate the signing of the Constitution of the United States. Olga met with Mayor Gerald Romary and members of the Louisville, Ohio city council and shared her idea with them.

On September 17, 1952 Mayor Romary declared the day as Constitution Day in the city of Louisville. It was such a success that Olga decided to approach members of the Ohio General Assembly and ask that Ohio make a statewide designation for Constitution Day. The general assembly thought it a fine idea and Constitution Day was signed into law by Governor Frank J. Lausche. Olga's efforts didn't end there however, she had one more stop—the United States Congress.

In August of 1953 Olga urged the United States Senate to pass a resolution designating September 17-23 as Constitution Week. The Senate and House approved her request and it was signed into law by President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Today, Constitution Week is nationally recognized and children all over America celebrate it in their classrooms. The city of Louisville is now known as Constitution Town and for over fifty years they have been faithfully celebrating Constitution Week in grand fair—and all because of an Ohio mom named Olga Weber.

Help Support Our Work!

If you like our work and the impact we're having, we'd love your support! Your tax-deductible gift helps provide the family focused, liberty-promoting programs and resources to empower moms, promote liberty, and raise a new generation of patriots. You can make your gift right online through our SECURE DONATION LINK or by mailing a check to:

Moms for America, 893 S. Main St. #228, Englewood, OH 45322

For more info on Moms For America® visit MomsForAmerica.us

VIDEO HIGHLIGHTS:

Constitution Day Press Conference

View 30-second HIGHLIGHT REEL

Congressman Steve King encourages Moms for America to “Keep up this good work.”

View the full event on Breitbart.

Helping Moms Learn and Share the U. S. Constitution

Moms for America® provides a wealth of resources to help moms learn the Constitution and share it with their children in a fun, engaging way. From Schoolhouse Rock to Hillsdale's Constitution Courses, we've done all the work collecting the best stories, videos and resources to help moms understand the Constitution and kids to get excited about it.

